Rabbi's Reflections

by Howard Apothaker

(This column is a continuation of Rabbi Apothaker's reflections on the 23rd Psalm. This month's verse: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil....")

"And it was good." This phrase punctuates stages in the story of creation in the first chapter of Scripture. Creation's "it was good" means: sky, water, land were arrayed in such a way as to allow all living organisms to function in an orderly fashion. Order out of chaos.

Disorder – what Scripture describes as "evil" – rears its head, says Scripture, as Adam and Eve gain knowledge of, and begin to fear their own, and each other's, deaths.

The process and the inevitable passing of those about whom we care can seem cruelly evil. Death throws the lives of us survivors out of balance. It thrusts us out of what orderliness we might have known and casts us unceremoniously into the unknown. Chaos holds sway, threatening our psychic stability and sometimes even our physical health. Our family chemistry changes and we desperately seek a new balance.

That is why the psalm depicts the journey to wholeness as a walk in a valley of shadows. Those shadows are the images of the past and the valley is the inevitable trap of the memory of those images. What now? Will I ever get to the end of this gorge? What exists at the other end?

And the psalmist comes to say, "I shall fear no chaos."

Who can allay the fear of never emerging from the shadows? I sometimes wonder with Rabbi Harold Kushner, whose book is the inspiration for these columns, how the re-upped soldier in a war zone, the sexually promiscuous before a blood test, the inner-city pre-teen walking by a crack house, our own brethren mounting buses in Israel, how they live with a chaotic unknown from which they may not see themselves as soon emerging.

2004 Annual Campaign

Dear Fellow Congregant,

We are launching our current, 2004 Annual Campaign for operating funds. In the past, we have asked our members to increase their Dues and their Building Fund commitments, for which they are billed each year. Starting this year, we are asking our members to maintain their 2004 Dues and Building Fund commitments and to help fill our funding gap with this supplemental pledge.

Our 2004 Annual Campaign for funds has just begun. Within the next two months, we will be soliciting you for a donation. Temple Beth Shalom is a diverse and strong congregation. But to continue as a successful congregation requires adequate funding. Simply put, Dues and Building Fund revenues do not cover all our expenses. Please join the two of us and others in the Congregation in giving to the 2004 Annual Campaign so that Temple Beth Shalom can remain strong and vital in the lives of all our members.

Donors to the Annual Campaign will be recognized on a special Donor Recognition Board that will be displayed in our main lobby for the remainder of this year.

We look forward to, and thank you in advance, for your support.

Sincerely,

Jim Feibel
President

Marion A. Kaplan, Skirball Cultural Center Professor of Modern Jewish History at New York University will speak on Between Dignity and Despair: Jewish Women and Families in Nazi Germany. ## Next Sharyonim Shabbat is May 21

We hope you will join us on May 21 at the 8 PM Erev Shabbat service to welcome the Licking Heights Chorale as special musical guests. Our adult choir, the Sharyonim, will lead service music, and will join the Chorale for a special joint piece at the end of the service.

Sharyonim member and conductor Debbie Costa leads the Licking Heights group, and under her guidance accomplishes great musical results. The group consistently wins the highest marks in all of their competitions—come to the service to see why!

As in the last column, let me call on an example from my own father's life to illustrate. He lives in Atlantic City and he visits, as he says, "establishments with games of chance." He told me that when he first began to learn the ropes, the games seemed to run at high speed and he was in a blur. As he learned the various games, the action seemed to slow down for him so that he could see and understand and react as if by second nature. It was no longer chaos. Except for the odds, he was in control.

For those who walk through the valley of shadows often enough, those for whom the darkness is more familiar, the fear of the unknown diminishes. The path to stability after rocky road of potential disaster is slightly more familiar. "I shall cope. The chaos, I have faith, is temporary."

But living through the chaos cannot get us through the hopelessly darkest moments. That is why, in June, I shall take up the psalmist's proclamation, "for Thou art with me."

Cantorial Corner by Cindy Leland

"Make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered." (Isaiah 23:16)

Good old Isaiah! My students will tell you that Isaiah is my "desert island" book—as in if you could have only one book on a desert island... What a wealth of comfort, uplift and good advice abounds in that book!

TBS has played a part in a good many sweet melodies in the last month, and I hope you have heard at least some of them. Our new Youth Choir members already have established themselves in the general Jewish community by their stellar performances during the Community Concert with the Galron Israeli Choir—of the six Youth Choir solos in that concert, three were performed by Beth Shalom singers! And beautifully!

I have enjoyed working with the Women of Beth Shalom's planning committee for their service on April 30. The members have taught me a lot about their preferences for service music, and I look forward to acting on those. The service itself is lovely, and I hope you will look for more information about this event on the WBS pages of this Window, and make an effort to attend.

Finally, don't miss the May 21 Sharyonim Shabbat which will feature the Licking Heights Chorale, a hugely talented group of young singers under the direction of our own Debbie Costa, who conducts the Sharyonim as well. Last year the Chorale performed a choreographed medley of rock-and-roll songs during the oneg, in addition to the works they gave us for the service. Don't miss this one!

There's always something musical "in the works" here at TBS. Supported and cheered on by you, our musical efforts yield sweet results!

Women of Beth Shalom

New Members First Friday

Don't forget that on Friday evening, May 7, 2004, the Women of Beth Shalom will sponsor a New Members First Friday Shabbat Service. We invite the whole congregation to attend this important Beth Shalom event. We want to welcome all of our new members into our open, inclusive and caring Temple family.

Women of Beth Shalom Year End Event

We can hardly believe that another year has gone by on our Temple Beth Shalom calendar. The Women of Beth Shalom has had a wonderful year under the superb direction of our President Fran Lamster. We have sponsored a variety of events from the Chanukah Party to Bedtime Bundles to our beautiful Women's Seder and Women's Shabbat Service. On Thursday evening, May 20, we will pass the torch to new leadership. We will meet at Hunan House for dinner and the election of Officers and Board for 2004-2005. The evening will begin at 7:00 PM. The cost of the dinner plus gratuity is $20.00. Beverages will be extra. For reservations, please call Heather Apple at 855-4182.

Sixth Annual Women's Seder: A Joyful Evening

Forty-eight women, including daughters, granddaughters, nieces and guests enjoyed this delightful evening. Special thanks are due to all who brought ceremonial goods, salads and desserts to enhance the occasion. We especially thank Nancy Heiden and Barbara Dowell, who co-led the service.

My heartfelt thanks to WBS leaders who so ably assisted in planning and presenting the evening. They are: Heather Apple, Fran Lamster, Hope Myers, Linda Cadel, Dorry Sunenshine, Phyllis Byer, Elaine Oruch, Bette Young and Diane Golub.

We extend our appreciation to staffers: Lynn Tallan, who led the wonderful Tambourine Creation event, and Susan Valentine-Cooper and Joe Henderson for their professional and willing assistance.

Connie Freundlich, Event Chair

The congregation mourns the death of founding member Dorothy Fenburr.

BeSTY

BeSTY Murder Mystery Lock-In

Stars such as Frank Sinatra, Elvis Presley, Marilyn Monroe and Janis Joplin gathered on the evening of April 3, and a night full of expectations, suspense, glitz, glamour and... (GASP) MURDER commenced!!! Where could this have taken place? Here in our very own Temple Beth Shalom Social Hall, which posed for the night as a spooky old mansion, appropriately decorated with bats and spider webs. And who were all these people? Why, they were youth groupers from all over Columbus as well as Ohio, Indiana, and even Kentucky! All were dressed up as specific old-school Hollywood characters and took on the persona of their characters.

Why was all of this happening? Because BeSTY was having a Murder Mystery Lock-In Hollywood Style. Participants each played a role and had to try to figure out the culprit of a murder. Guests feasted on wonderful spaghetti doused in the sauce of chef extraordinaire Cheryl Meisterman as they puzzled over this mystery during dinner.

After delicious chocolate cake, everyone cast votes: most people thought Janis Joplin was guilty. She was then put on trial according to the procedures of a court of Jewish law, after an extremely thought provoking and informative educational about justice and the ancient Jewish justice system. Janis Joplin was not convicted, and it turned out that the real culprit was Jimi Hendrix!

Yet the evening wasn't even close to over. A super pumped song session had 47 people jumping up and down and filled the room with ruach. Then "since we got to feel like stars tonight, it [was] our turn to make other people feel like stars," as Social Action VP Alan Mandelbaum said. So everyone made a bag full of goodies for a Children's Hospital patient. The bags contained a coloring book, crayons, pinwheels and other fun toys, AND they were individually hand decorated. The evening wrapped up with Havdalah—but even though it was midnight, of course nobody went to bed. The rest of the night was spent with old and new friends alike, and everybody there got to say they survived the BeSTY Blackout 4/4/04!

TBS Talmud Torah

End of the School Year

The year has sped by; this column is the last of the Education News columns for the academic year 2003-2004. It was a great year for all of us on the faculty and staff, and we look forward to a relaxing summer and to a wonderful year starting in the fall!

Registrations for the 2004-2005 School Year

We are already well into planning the 2004-2005 school year, and I'm happy to be able to report that, once again, most of our excellent faculty members will be returning to teach again next year! Registration forms for the coming school year will be going out no later than the beginning of May. Please watch for these forms in the mail. The early bird deadline for registrations is June 1. Families who return their completed registration forms and deposits by that day will realize a substantial savings ($70) on their tuition for the Beit Limud (Judaic Studies) part of our Talmud Torah. (The Beit Ivrit [Hebrew Education Program] tuition is the same regardless of when the registration forms are received).

Sixth Grade Family Program: "What to Do!" Sun., May 2nd

On Sunday, May 2nd at 9:00am the Sixth Grade students and their parents will participate in a program at which parents will have the opportunity to review or learn for the first time the procedure for being called to the Torah during a Shabbat service, including the recitation of the brachot (blessings) for before and after the Torah reading. The program will also feature a discussion of the types of mitzvah projects that each candidate for Bar/Bat Mitzvah should choose and complete before the date of his/her First Aliyah. We encourage all parents of Sixth Graders to attend this important session.

First Friday May/Alef Shabbat

On Friday, May 7th, our Talmud Torah 3rd Grade class (Kitah Alef) will lead prayers and sing songs as part of the First Friday Shabbat service. As with all First Fridays of the month, the service will begin at 6:00 pm, followed by a dinner and children's activity at approximately 7:00pm. The Alef students have been working hard all year, learning the Hebrew alphabet and gaining fluency in reading the Hebrew of the siddur. They have been studying with their Hebrew teachers – Emily Desmond, Michelle Valentine-Cooper, Rachel Kahana, and Sharon Ross – in preparation for this service. Please join us for this special occasion.

Last Day of School

On the last day of school, Sunday, May 23rd, we will have a special assembly from 10:30 to 11:00 which will feature special music and a teacher appreciation ceremony. On that same morning Temple Beth Shalom will have its Annual Meeting, starting at 9:15 in the Sanctuary. The meeting will end in time for attendees to participate in the 10:30 assembly. Hebrew students and 7th and 8th grade students will have class as usual after the assembly, and these classes will end at the usual dismissal time, 12:45.

Rachel Anne Milgrom, daughter of Jeff and Valerie Milgrom, will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on May 8th, 2004 at 10:00am. She will be reading from Parshat Emor. She has a younger sister, Hannah, and an older brother and sister, Dan and Mandy respectively. She is the granddaughter of Mary Smallwood and Fran & the late Seymour Milgrom.

"My thoughts towards my Bat Mitzvah can be summarized in one word: 'Faith'," Rachel tells us. "I enter the adult world with a deeper understanding of my faith in God and also the faith that I have in myself and all I do. God enables me to do that."

Rachel is a student at Perry Middle School in Worthington. She plays volleyball and attends school dances. Her interests include her friends and family, music, the Internet, writing poems and shopping. For her service project, Rachel volunteered at the Central Ohio Diabetes Association. Her tutoring was provided by Esty Heiden.

Danny Weckstein, son of Barbara and Michael Weckstein, will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on May 29th, 2004 at 10:00am. He will be reading from Parshat Naso. He has two older brothers, David and Brian, and is the grandson of Naomi & Bruce Wertheimer and Marilyn & the late Daniel Weckstein.

"I have enjoyed studying Hebrew," Danny tells us. "I look forward to sharing this special day with my family and friends."

Danny attends Bexley Middle School, and is a member of the Math Club there. Other interests of his include biking, swimming, Nintendo and traveling. He volunteered at the Franklin Park Conservatory for his service project. He was tutored by JoAnne Grossman.

MAY 25

Shavuot commemorates the Torah being given to us at Mount Sinai.

In honor of this joyous occasion, it is traditional to engage in two delightful activities: eating dairy and studying Torah into the wee hours of the morning.

Meet at Temple at 6:30 pm for a wonderful dairy dinner

Stay through the evening for a Shavuot study session as we explore communal memory and what it means to receive Torah.

Come early (5:00 pm) and do homework or help make dessert – whichever you need to do.

are welcome!
